

How To Organize a Sea Scout Ship

WELCOME TO SEA SCOUTS

Sea Scouts is a program of the Boy Scouts of America for young men and women 14 years of age, or 13 years of age and completion of the eighth grade. The maximum age for participation is under 21 years of age. The purpose of Sea Scouts is to bring a program of character building, citizenship training, and personal fitness to the youth of America. Sea Scout ships are organized by churches, civic clubs, schools, maritime organizations, businesses, unions, and other community organizations that provide adult volunteer leaders, program resources, and meeting facilities. These ships plan programs related to maritime careers, seamanship, and service.

Sea Scouts started in 1912 and has a long and colorful tradition. Thousands of young men and women have had the opportunity to follow the traditions of the sea while learning what the future holds, whether it's a career related to the sea or a lifelong hobby of recreational boating. Many Sea Scout ships maintain sail or power vessels; follow a challenging rank advancement program; and have nautical uniforms, customs, and ceremonies.

What Does a Sea Scout Ship Do?

The program of a Sea Scout ship is based on matching the interests of members with the skills, equipment, and resources of the chartered organization. Most ships follow the traditional advancement program found in the Sea Scout Manual. The ship's program follows the customs and traditions of the sea and encourages members to earn the ranks of Apprentice, Ordinary, Able, and Quartermaster (equivalent to the Boy Scouts' Eagle rank).

Sea Scout advancement includes uniforms, safety, customs, swimming, boating, marlinspike seamanship, piloting, signaling, drill, cruising, galley, sailing, boats, tackle, first aid, navigation, boat maintenance, engines, sea history, lifesaving, equipment, weather, radio, customs, and ideals.

Some Sea Scout ships prefer to plan their program around a specialty such as sailing, careers, scuba diving, or an aquatic sport. They may not utilize Sea Scout uniforms and advancement, but still offer a flexible program to those young adults with a specific career or hobby interest.

Steps to Organize

Step One

When an appropriate organization is selected to charter a Sea Scout ship, the BSA council assigns an organizer to guide the following steps. This organization may be a church, civic club, school, labor union, maritime association or business, or other community group.

Step Two

The organizer and a council staff member visit the top person in the organization (pastor, president, CEO, etc.). They review the purpose and program of Sea Scouts and the responsibilities of the organization in chartering a ship. The top person agrees to:

- Commit the organization to support a Sea Scout ship.
- Inform the key leaders of the organization about Sea Scouts.
- Recruit adult ship leaders.
- Provide program resources and a meeting location.

Step Three

The organizer meets with the organization's key leaders. This may be an executive committee, church board, group of department heads, etc. The purpose and program of Sea Scouts are reviewed. The top person asks the key leaders to:

- Support their Sea Scout ship.
- Help secure program resources and equipment.
- Identify prospective adult leaders. These are men and women over 21 years of age who are of good character and have the ability to lead a quality Sea Scout program for youth.

Step Four

The top person and the key leaders invite prospective adult leaders to an organizational meeting. The purpose, program, and leadership of a Sea Scout ship are reviewed using the Sea Scout Manual. A leader basic training session is scheduled to cover the material found in the Sea Scout Adult Leader Basic Training Instructor's Guide. After these training sessions are completed, the organizer guides these prospective leaders to select a skipper, two or more mates, and the ship committee. The organization's top person is involved in this selection. The job descriptions for these positions are found online and in the Sea Scout Manual.

Step Five

The Sea Scout ship program capability inventory is completed. This is a list of adults in the organization who can help with instruction, resources, and equipment for ship meetings, activities, and cruises. The ship committee secures the use of watercraft, as needed, for the ship program, keeping in mind that the cost of operating and maintaining a large vessel may be prohibitive for a new ship.

Step Six

The first three months of meetings and activities are planned and scheduled. These should include weekly or bimonthly ship meetings, Saturday or weekend activities or cruises, and monthly ship committee meetings. The program for the first few ship meetings might include the following:

- Introduction to the Sea Scout program
- Instruction related to Sea Scout advancement, particularly the Apprentice rank
- Discussion of ship uniforms
- Election of officers
- Boating safety—swim checks
- Basic nautical skills instruction

Step Seven

Young adults are recruited to join the ship. Names from the council career interest survey may be used. Announcements and publicity are developed. Prospective members can be recruited through schools, churches, and community organizations. Sons and daughters of members of the chartered organization can be invited.

The first ship meeting (called an open house) is carefully planned to provide an exciting program to attract prospects to join. Hands-on maritime activities should be featured. The ship leaders review the schedule of meetings and activities, along with the structure, activities, and advancement opportunities in Sea Scouts. Leaders and members from nearby ships may be invited to help. All new ship members should purchase a Sea Scout Manual. Sea Scouts must be 14 years of age, or 13 years of age and completion of the eighth grade. The maximum age for participation is under 21 years of age. The organization determines if its membership is coed, all-female, or all-male.

Step Eight

The ship is chartered by the BSA council. All members and leaders must be registered. Registration forms and information will be provided by the organizer. The charter and membership cards will be presented to the chartered organization at an appropriate occasion.

Step Nine

The new ship members elect officers as soon as possible. The skipper may appoint temporary officers until the ship members know each other well enough to elect.

Step 10

The skipper trains the new officers using the Sea Scout Manual and the Sea Scout Leaders' Manual (available online only at www.seascout.org). A year's schedule of meetings and activities should be developed to avoid any conflict with school, church, or community events.

Suggested Program for a New Sea Scout Ship

Meetings

Ship meetings can be held as frequently as the time of the leaders and members will permit. Many ships meet an average of once a week, not always on the same day and not always formally. For instance, one week the members may gather at the harbor to work on boats. Another week they may get together on a Friday night to go to a show, skating, bowling, etc. At least once every three months a business meeting is necessary to elect officers, plan the ship's next three month program in detail, make assignments, and transact other business. (See the Sea Scout Manual and the Sea Scout Leaders' Manual online at www.seascout.org.)

Program Planning

At a program planning meeting, it is essential to have school and council calendars available. When the ship's members have agreed upon the program content they desire, the officers appoint chairs for the selected activities and help them name a committee. An adult officer or committee member is selected to serve as an adviser to each committee. These committees have the responsibility for the complete planning, promotion, and conducting of the activity in their charge. (See the Sea Scout Manual.)

Program Content

The following program outline has been developed as a suggestion for a new ship just getting under way. It is based on two meetings a month of the entire ship, an officers' meeting (quarterdeck), plus an activity or field trip. It can be modified or adapted to fit the needs and interests of members and leaders. It is also assumed that May is the first month. Modify the program accordingly if the ship begins in another month.

In some locations, council and/or area Sea Scout events are conducted. These dates should be included in the ship's calendar.
